

RIAS Kammerchor Berlin 2024

The RIAS Kammerchor Berlin, which is celebrating its 75th anniversary in the 2023-2024 season, is one of the most renowned professional choirs in the world. 34 professional singers make up the multinational ensemble, which is known for its outstanding and precise sound. Its repertoire ranges from historically informed interpretations of Renaissance and Baroque music to works from the Classical and Romantic eras, together with regular world premieres.

Since the 2017–18 season, Justin Doyle has been the chief conductor and artistic director of the RIAS Kammerchor Berlin. With approximately 50 concerts a year on national and international stages, the RIAS Kammerchor is a major cultural ambassador for the country. In its home city of Berlin, the choir presents ten concerts each season, including the renowned New Year's Day concert at the Philharmonie as well as the Forum Concerts, which explore new concert forms and concepts in unusual locations all over Berlin.

An enduring and fruitful collaboration binds the choir to the Akademie für Alte Musik Berlin, the Chamber Orchestra of Europe, and the Freiburger Barockorchester, as well as conductors such as Sir Simon Rattle, René Jacobs, Yannick Nézet-Séguin, Iván Fischer, and Rinaldo Alessandrini.

The RIAS Kammerchor Berlin is an ensemble of the Rundfunk Orchester und Chöre gGmbH (ROC). Other partners are Deutschlandradio, the Federal Republic of Germany, the State of Berlin and the Rundfunk Berlin-Brandenburg broadcasting company.
